In step-by-step instructional form, write down the steps necessary to wash your hands. Assume that you are standing outside of a room that contains a sink and soap. The door to this room is closed.

This set of instructions will have your name on it and be turned in to your instructor. It will then be used as attendance verification for financial aid and provide your first in-class assignment grade.